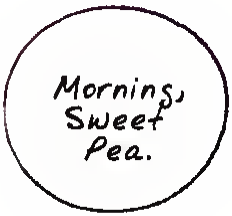
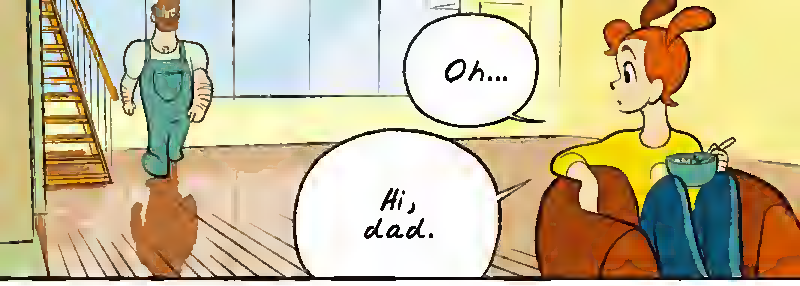
The next day...



Mornings,
Sweet
Pea.



Oh...
Hi, dad.

You're up early...

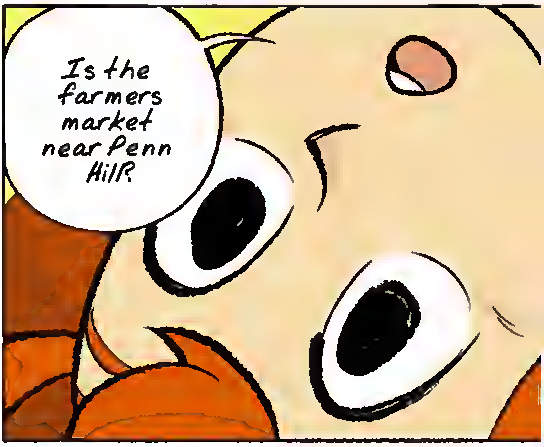
Yeah...
I've been having trouble sleeping.

Really?
Why?
I've just had a lot on my mind.
I'll wake up and start thinking about things and soon I can't get back to sleep.
Well, since you're up, would you like to come to the farmers market with me?
I'm going to buy some beef jerky and then hunker down somewhere to study for my teacher certification exam.

I don't know...
I feel super lazy today.
I might just stay home and play video games.
smack
Alright.
I love you, Sweetie.

Dad?

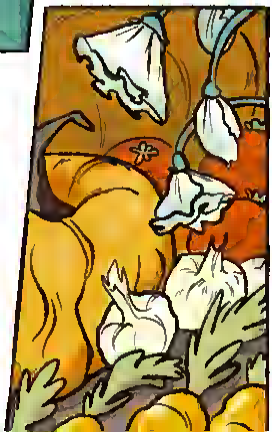
Yes?

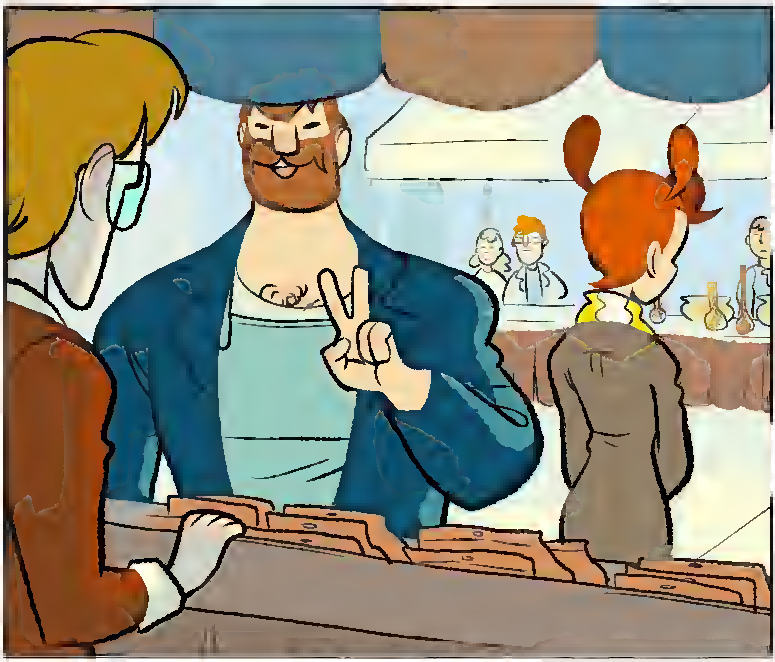


Is the farmers market near Penn Hill?

I think so...
Why do you ask?

KOKOMO CO-OP
FARMERSMARKET





I've made up my mind.

I'm going to find a way to talk to Oliver.

I have a million questions to ask him, and I want to try and work things out.
But contacting him is not going to be easy.
He doesn't use net gear.
He doesn't have a phone number.

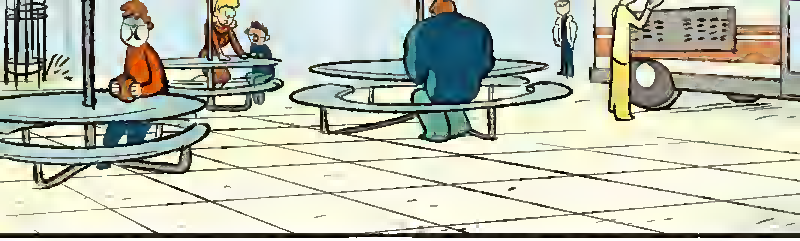
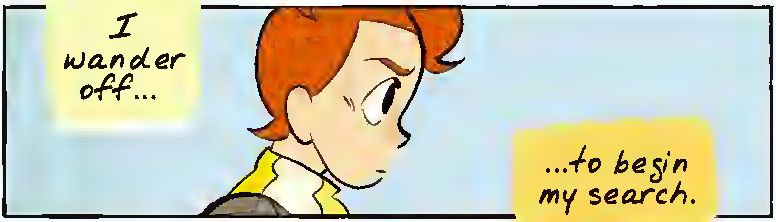
He lives behind a high wall with an iron gate.
At this point, there's only one way I can think to reach him...
BEEF JERKY

Jerky?
No thanks.

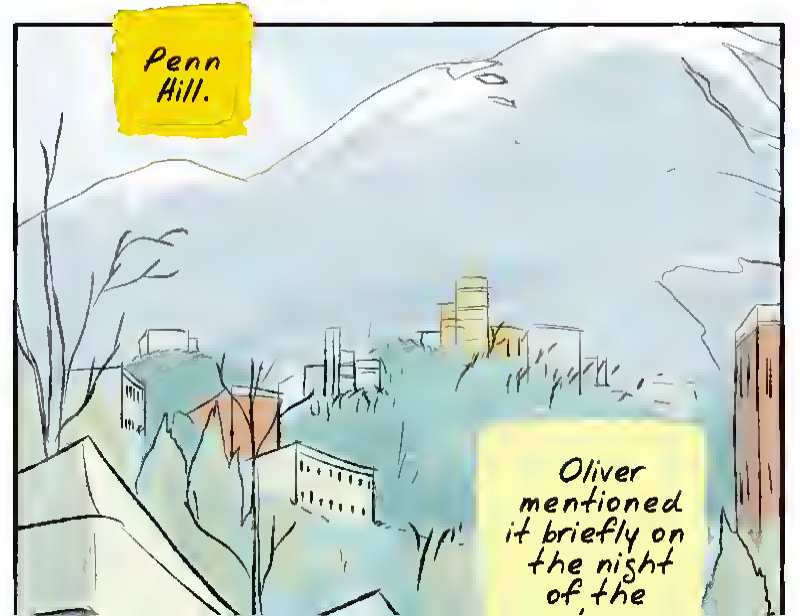
Dad and I walk around for a bit, and then dad settles down to study.





I wander off...
...to begin my search.

Excuse me, could you tell me where Penn Hill is?



Penn Hill.
Oliver mentioned it briefly on the night of the storm.

He said Dr. Kim works up there, at a medical center.

If anyone can help me reconnect with Oliver, it's his foster dad.

That's my hope, anyways.

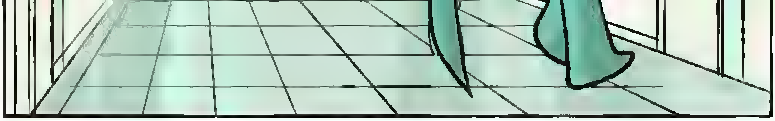
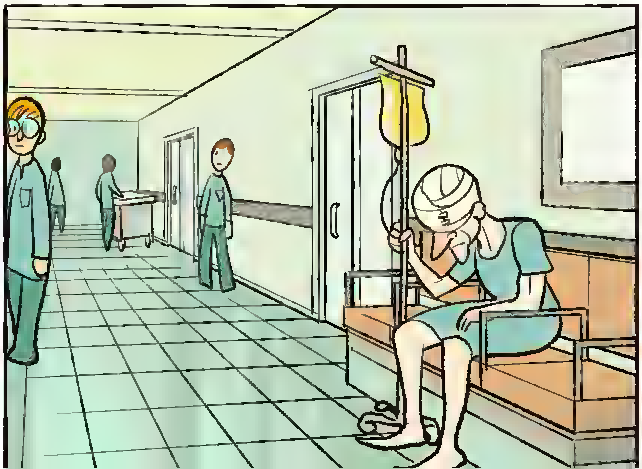
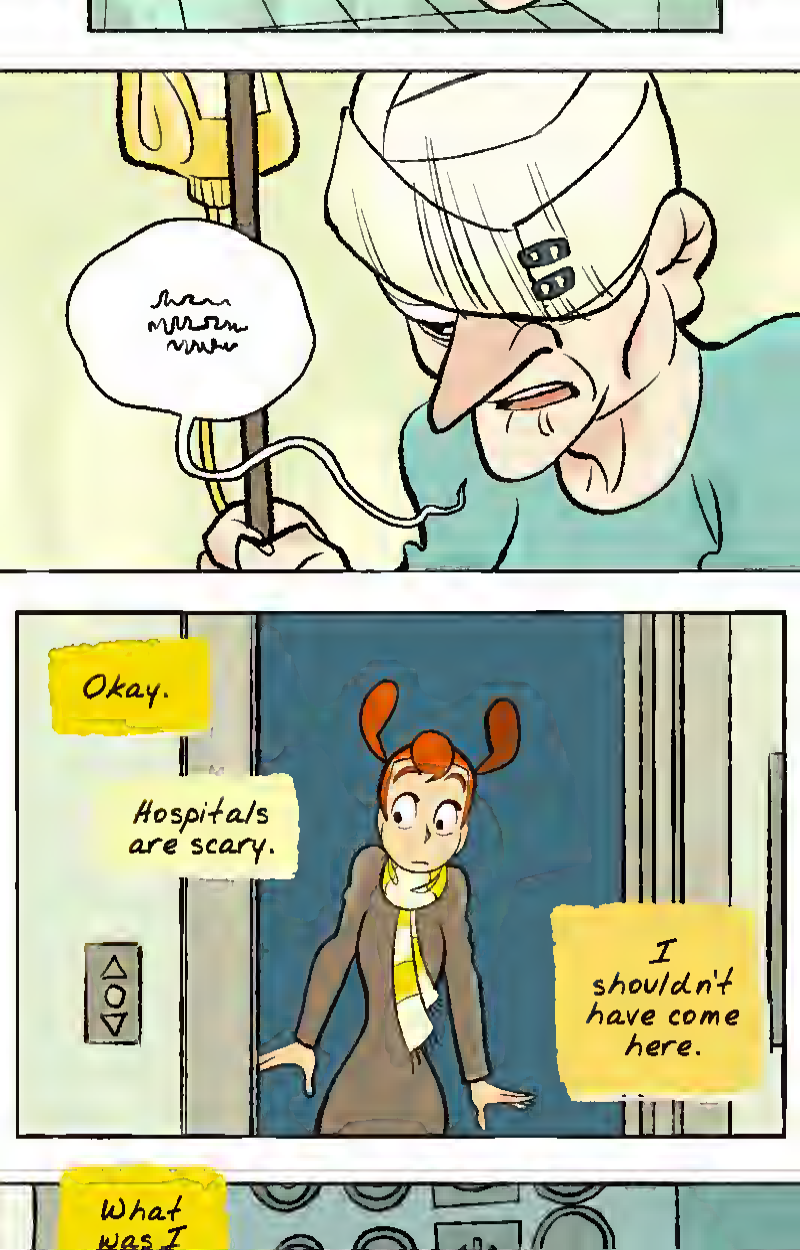
bing!

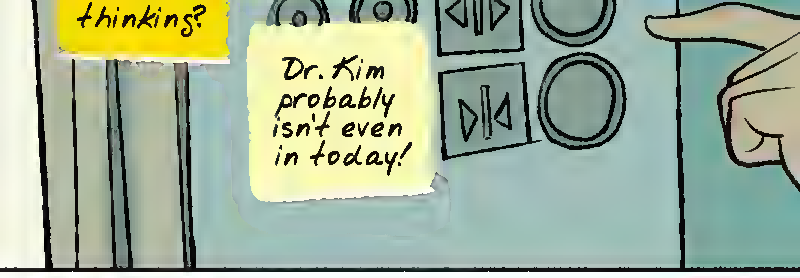
Gosh...
Am I even allowed up here?



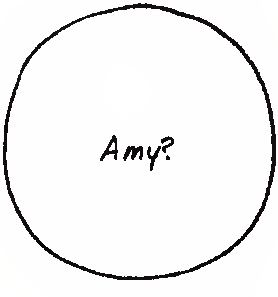




Okay.
Hospitals are scary.
I shouldn't have come here.
What was I



thinking?
Dr. Kim probably isn't even in today!



Amy?

What are you doing here?

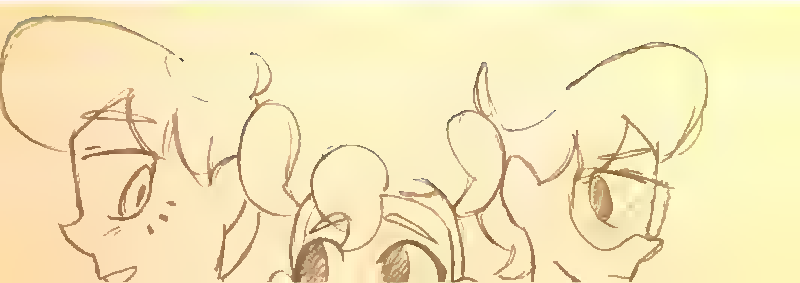
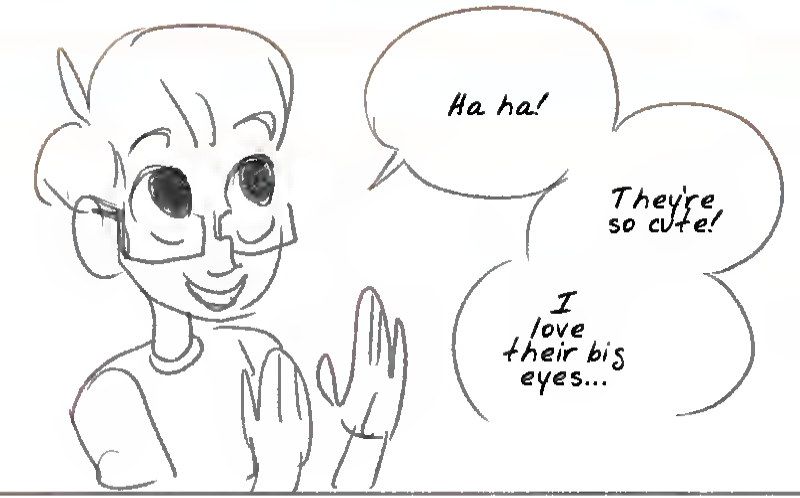
"Because I like her flavour mix and her design, I draw Jemmah. And when I thought about pineapple and jalapenos, I thought of flamenco or salsa or something with fire and fun in it. So I came up with this one."

Kylie

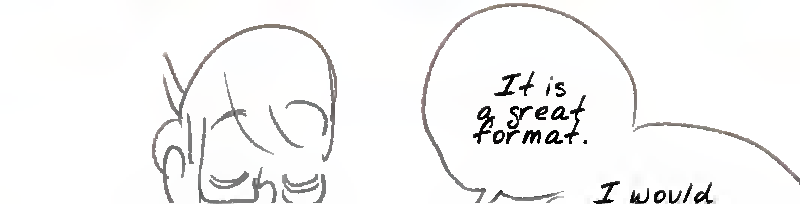
"Amy, Oliver, and Zeph are my favorite!"





Robin White

"Hope you like it. Loving the comic, by the way. I'm also really interested in Webtoons as a format, and I think my next comic will be serialized there."



definitely encourage cartoonists out there to publish in the DISCOVER section of the website!

I am a fan of your webcomic and I have made a fanart for it
In the fanart, Oliver is looking up to someone...

Oh my gosh, it's so beautiful!
How did you make this!
Thank you so much!
